Description of organisation's activities

Submón is an association whose projects focus mainly on conserving, studying and raising awareness about the marine environment, always from a highly social and sustainable viewpoint.

Why help?

Submón is currently going through a period of internal reflection about its activity, social impact and the positioning in the environment. Submón requires a team of consultants willing to help it carry out this strategic reflection and raise the general public's awareness of the social impact of its maritime activity.

Proposed mission

Guidance about strategic thinking. In response to the need for a new strategic approach in line with its principles, the organisation needs guidance about its strategic thinking and positioning.

Profile of the giving back consultant

Submón seeks alumni willing to help them with their thinking and positioning by sharing their experience and knowledge with methods and advice.
